Office Action Summary

DETAILED ACTION

Reissue Applications

The offer to surrender is acknowledged. However, the original patent, or an affidavit or declaration as to loss or inaccessibility of the original patent, must be received before this reissue application can be allowed. See 37 CFR 1.178.

There is no request to transfer drawings. Further, the drawings present in the application were objected to by the draftsman, see the PTO-948.

The reissue oath/declaration filed with this application is defective because the error which is relied upon to support the reissue application is not an error upon which a reissue can be based. See 37 CFR 1.175(a)(1) and MPEP § 1414.

The applicants state that the error is not including method claims. However, the originally filed application had method claims and after the first office action on merits said method claims were cancelled.

Claims 1 through 23 are rejected as being based upon a defective reissue declaration under 35 U.S.C. 251 as set forth above. See 37 CFR 1.175.

The nature of the defect(s) in the declaration is set forth in the discussion above in this Office action.

Art Unit: 3713

Applicant is reminded of the continuing obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to timely apprise the Office of any litigation information, or other prior or concurrent proceeding, involving Patent No. 5,630,755, which is material to patentability of the claims under consideration in this reissue application. This obligation rests with each individual associated with the filing and prosecution of this application for reissue. See MPEP §§ 1404, 1442.01 and 1442.04.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 8 through 23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, because the specification, while being enabling for the soft count supervisor comprising a computer that "provides spread sheet type accounting of notes and coupons," see col. 3:36-37, does not reasonably provide enablement for the "soft count supervisor comprising a computer and a program for providing a spread sheet output" (see claims 8 and 19). The specification does not enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the invention commensurate in scope with these claims. The claimed recitation of the "soft count supervisor comprising a computer and a program for providing a spread sheet output" can be interpreted by one of ordinary skill in the art as a general computer with general spreadsheet application program, e.g. a Dell Dimension personal computer running the Microsoft Windows operating system with Microsoft Excel application program being run with Windows. A fair reading of the originally filed specification by one of ordinary skill in the art would give the understanding to one of ordinary skill in the art that the soft count supervisor is a specialty computer with specifically developed software that provides "spread sheet type accounting of notes and coupons."

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 8 through 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being incomplete for omitting essential structural cooperative relationships of elements, such omission amounting to a gap between the necessary structural connections and thus being interpreted as a mere listing of parts. See MPEP § 2172.01.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 8 through 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lucero et al., U.S. Patent No. 4,072,930.

Lucero et al. discloses the soft count tracking system as broadly claimed which comprises: an identification adapter having a unique serial number, which is the portable transponder (54) having the ID code module, see col. 3:42-44; a currency note validator having a microcontroller, not shown in the game machine (40) however it is well-known in the art that game machines have validators to determine whether currency is counterfeit or not; a storage mechanism having an integral storage memory (46); and a soft counter supervisor comprising a computer (48). All of these component are in communication with each other, see the figures. Lucero et al. doesn't expressly disclose the computer having "a program for providing a spread sheet output." However, Lucero et al. does disclose that the computer receives accounting data, see col. 4:59-61. Hence, Lucero et al. implicitly contains a program to handle such accounting data; otherwise it would be meaningless for the computer to receive such data. One of ordinary skill in the art understands that spread sheet output would be substantially similar as accounting data when referring auditing game machines. Therefore, one skilled in the art would find the claimed invention as obvious in conjunction with one's knowledge of auditing game machines.

Conclusion

Claims 1 through 7 and 18 through 23 are not rejected under prior art.

Attachment for PTO-948 (Rev. 03/01, or earlier)
6/18/01

The below text replaces the pre-printed text under the heading, "Information on How to Effect Drawing Changes," on the back of the PTO-948 (Rev. 03/01, or earlier) form.

INFORMATION ON HOW TO EFFECT DRAWING CHANGES

1. Correction of Informalities -- 37 CFR 1.85

New corrected drawings must be filed with the changes incorporated therein. Identifying indicia, if provided, should include the title of the invention, inventor's name, and application number, or docket number of any, if an application number has not been assigned to the application. If this information is provided, it must be placed on the front of each sheet and centered within the top margin. If corrected drawings are required in a Notice of Allowability (PTOL-37), the new drawings MUST be filed within the THREE MONTH shortened statutory period set for reply in the Notice of Allowability. Extensions of time may NOT be obtained under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a) or (b) for filing the corrected drawings after the mailing of a Notice of Allowability. The drawings should be filed as a separate paper with a transmittal letter addressed to the Official Draftsperson.

2. Corrections other than Informalities Noted by Draftsperson on form PTO-948.

All changes to the drawings, other than informalities noted by the Draftsperson MUST be made in the same manner as above except that, normally, a highlighted (preferably red ink) sketch of the changes to be incorporated into the new drawings MUST be approved by the examiner before the application will be allowed. No changes will be permitted to be made other than correction of informalities, unless the examiner has approved the proposed changes.

Timing of Corrections

Applicant is required to submit the drawing corrections within the time period set in the attached Office communication. See 37 CFR 1.85(a).

Failure to take corrective action within the set period will result in ABANDONMENT of the application.
